WHY ALL THE NOISE ABOUT ACOUSTIC INSULATION?

The world is a noisy place. So the quality of any given environment in that world is determined, in no small part, by its ability to mitigate and control the noise levels within them. Today's architecture, with its modern aesthetics, sound reflecting walls, generous open spaces and use of glass, is creating new challenges in acoustic control and sound attenuation.

With each new design comes a new need for an acoustic control solution – and an expectation that acoustic achievement will not be had at the expense of aesthetic integrity.

Precisely why TECHLITE Acoustics™ is becoming the preferred provider of acoustic products around the world.
